

Products and Services for All	Description
*Android Auto *	Android Auto is a mobile app developed by Google to mirror features from an Android device to a car's compatible in-dash information and entertainment head unit.
Andriod Messages	Android Messages is the Android's official app for texting (SMS, MMS) and chat (RCS). Stay in touch with friends and family, send group texts, and share your favourite pictures, videos, and audio messages.
Android OS	Android is a mobile operating system developed by Google, based on a modified version of the Linux kernel and other open source software and designed primarily for touchscreen mobile devices such as smartphones and tablets.
Android One	Android One is a line of smartphones that run the unmodified Android operating system. It is a hardware and software standard created by Google intended to provide a consistent user experience and improved security through frequent updates and Google Play Protect.
Calendar	Google Calendar is a time-management and scheduling calendar service developed by Google. It became available as a limited beta release on April 13, 2006, and exited the beta stage in July 2009.
Cardboard	Google Cardboard is a virtual reality platform developed by Google for use with a head mount for a smartphone.
Chrome	Google Chrome is a freeware web browser developed by Google. It was first released in September 2008, for Microsoft Windows, and was later ported to Linux, macOS, iOS and Android.
Chrome Web Store	The Chrome Web Store is Google's online store for web applications for Google Chrome or Google Apps. It was announced at the Google I/O conference on May 19, 2010, by Vic Gundotra and released on December 6, 2010.
Chromebook	A Chromebook is a laptop of a different breed. Instead of Windows 10 or macOS, Chromebooks run Google's Chrome OS. These machines are designed to be used primarily while connected to the Internet, with most applications and documents living in the cloud.
Chromecast	A Chromecast is a device that you plug into your TV's HDMI port, powered by a USB cable (included). Using your smartphone or computer as a remote control, you can use Chromecast to access video content from Netflix, YouTube, Hulu, the Google Play Store and other services.
Contacts	Google Contacts is Google's contact management tool that is available in its free email service Gmail, as a standalone service, and as a part of Google's business-oriented suite of web apps Google Apps.
Daydream View	Daydream is a virtual reality platform developed by Google that is built into the Android mobile operating system. Compatible phones that follow the platform's software and hardware specifications are used in the Google Daydream View VR headset.
Docs	Google Docs, Google Sheets, and Google Slides are a word processor, a spreadsheet and a presentation program respectively, all part of a free, web-based software office suite offered by Google within its Google Drive service.
Drive	Google Drive is a file storage and synchronization service developed by Google. Launched on April 24, 2012, Google Drive allows users to store files on their servers, synchronize files across devices, and share files.
Earth	Google Earth is a computer program that renders a 3D representation of Earth based on satellite imagery. The program maps the Earth by superimposing satellite images, aerial photography, and GIS data onto a 3D globe, allowing users to see cities and landscapes from various angles.
Finance	Google Finance was a website launched on March 21, 2006, by Google. The service featured business and enterprise headlines for many corporations including their financial decisions and major news events.
Forms	Create a new survey on your own or with others at the same time. Choose from a variety of beautiful, pre-made themes or create your own. Analyze your results in Google Forms. Free from Google.
Gboard	Gboard is a virtual keyboard app developed by Google for Android and iOS devices. Gboard features Google Search, including web results and predictive answers, easy searching and sharing of GIF and emoji content, a predictive typing engine suggesting the next word depending on context, and multilingual language support.
Gmail	Gmail is a free, advertising-supported email service developed by Google. Users can access Gmail on the web and use third-party programs that synchronize email content through POP or IMAP protocols.
Google Alerts	Google Alerts is a content change detection and notification service, offered by the search engine company Google. The service sends emails to the user when it finds new results—such as web pages, newspaper articles, blogs, or scientific research—that match the user's search term(s).

Google's Products and Services

Google Allo	Google Allo is an instant messaging mobile app developed by Google for the Android and iOS mobile operating systems, with a web client available on Google Chrome, Mozilla Firefox, and Opera.
Google Cast	Google Cast is a simple, affordable way to send (or 'cast') entertainment and apps from your phone, tablet or computer to your TV or speakers. It works on Android phones and tablets, iPhones, iPads and computers and once it's set up it's as simple as pressing a button.
Google Classroom	Google Classroom is a free web service developed by Google for schools that aims to simplify creating, distributing and grading assignments in a paperless way.
Google Cloudprint	Google Cloudroom acts as a communication app where schools can send information to the parents directly. The parents can respond and interact with the information as well as contact the school.
Google Duo	Google Duo is a video chat mobile app developed by Google, available on the Android and iOS operating systems. It was announced at Google's developer conference on May 18, 2016, and began its worldwide release on August 16, 2016.
Google Expeditions	Google Expeditions is a virtual reality teaching tool that lets you lead or join immersive virtual trips all over the world — get up close with historical landmarks, dive underwater with sharks, even visit outer space!
Google Express	Google Express, formerly Google Shopping Express, is a shopping service from Google available in some parts of the United States that was launched on a free trial basis in San Francisco and Silicon Valley in spring 2013.
Google Fit	Google Fit is a health-tracking platform developed by Google for the Android operating system. It is a single set of APIs that blends data from multiple apps and devices.
Google Flight	Google Flights is an online flight booking search service which facilitates the purchase of airline tickets through third-party suppliers.
Google Fonts	Google Fonts is a library of over 800 libre licensed fonts, an interactive web directory for browsing the library, and APIs for conveniently using the fonts via CSS and Android.
Google Groups	Google Groups is a service from Google that provides discussion groups for people sharing common interests. The Groups service also provides a gateway to Usenet newsgroups via a shared user interface.
Google Home	Google Home is a brand of smart speakers developed by Google. Google Home speakers enable users to speak voice commands to interact with services through Google's intelligent personal assistant called Google Assistant.
Google Pay	Google Pay is a digital wallet platform and online payment system developed by Google to power in-app and tap-to-pay purchases on mobile devices, enabling users to make payments with Android phones, tablets or watches.
Google Play	Google Play (previously Android Market) is a digital distribution service operated and developed by Google. It serves as the official app store for the Android operating system, allowing users to browse and download applications developed with the Android software development kit (SDK) and published through Google.
Google Play Apps	Play Store is Google's official pre-installed app store on Android-certified devices. It provides access to content on the Google Play Store, including apps, books, magazines, music, movies, and television programs.
Google Play Games	Google Play Games is an online gaming service and software development kit operated by Google for the Android operating system. It features real-time multiplayer gaming capabilities, cloud saves, social and public leaderboards, and achievements.
Google Play Movies & TV	Google Play Movies & TV is an online video on demand service operated by Google. The service offers movies and television shows for purchase or rental, depending on availability.
Google Play Music	Google Play Music is a music and podcast streaming service and online music locker operated by Google. The service was announced on May 10, 2011, and after a six-month, invitation-only beta period, it was publicly launched on November 16.
Google Play Newsstand	Google Play Newsstand is a news aggregator and digital newsstand service operated by Google. ... Content can be read on a dedicated Newsstand section of the Google Play website or through the mobile apps for Android and iOS. Offline download and reading are supported by the mobile apps.
Google Now	Google Now was a feature of Google Search offering predictive cards with information and daily updates in the Google app for Android and iOS. Google Now proactively delivered information to users to predict information they may need.
Google Store	Google Store is Google's official pre-installed app store on Android-certified devices. It provides access to content on the Google Play Store, including apps, books, magazines, music, movies, and television programs.

Google Streetview	Google Street View is a technology featured in Google Maps and Google Earth that provides panoramic views from positions along many streets in the world.
Google Wifi	Google Wifi is a new type of home Wi-Fi system that replaces your traditional router and provides seamless, reliable Wi-Fi coverage throughout your home.
Google for Education	Google for Education is an ecology of digital tools from Google designed to host and distribute digital documents, communication, and collaboration through cloud-based technology.
Google+	Google Plus (stylized as Google+) is an Internet-based social network that is owned and operated by Google. The service, Google's fourth foray into social networking, experienced strong growth in its initial years, although usage statistics have varied, depending on how the service is defined.
Hangouts	Google Hangouts is a communication platform developed by Google which includes messaging, video chat, SMS and VOIP features.
Inbox by Gmail	Inbox by Gmail is an email service developed by Google. Announced in limited invitation-only basis on October 22, 2014, it was officially released to the public on May 28, 2015.
Keep	Google Keep is a note-taking service developed by Google. Launched on March 20, 2013, Google Keep is available on the web and has mobile apps for the Android and iOS mobile operating systems.
Maps	Google Maps is a web mapping service developed by Google. It offers satellite imagery, street maps, 360° panoramic views of streets, real-time traffic conditions, and route planning for travelling by foot, car, bicycle, or public transportation.
News	Google News is a free news aggregator provided and operated by Google, selecting news from thousands of news websites. A beta version was launched in September 2002 and released officially in January 2006.
Photos	Google Photos is a photo sharing and storage service developed by Google. It was announced in May 2015 and spun out from Google+, the company's social network.
Picasa	Picasa is a free online photo-sharing tool provided by Google. Once a user downloads Picasa, it automatically locates photos on the user's PC and moves them to Picasa. The program then allows users to edit photos, compile and organize albums and share photos online.
Project Fi	Project Fi is a mobile virtual network operator by Google, providing phone, messaging and data services using both Wi-Fi and cellular networks belonging to Sprint, T-Mobile, U.S. Cellular, and Three.
Scholar	Google Scholar is a freely accessible web search engine that indexes the full text or metadata of scholarly literature across an array of publishing formats and disciplines.
Search	Google Search, commonly referred to as Google Web Search or simply Google, is a web search engine developed by Google. It is the most-used search engine on the World Wide Web, handling more than three billion searches each day. As of February 2016, it is the most used search engine in the US with 64.0% market share.
Sheets	Create a new spreadsheet and edit with others at the same time — from your computer, phone or tablet. Get stuff done with or without an internet connection. Use Sheets to edit Excel files. Free from Google.
Sites	Google Sites is a structured wiki- and Web page-creation tool offered by Google as part of the G Suite productivity suite. The goal of Google Sites is for anyone to be able to create a team-oriented site where multiple people can collaborate and share files.
Slides	Create a new presentation and edit with others at the same time. Get stuff done with or without an internet connection. Use Slides to edit PowerPoint files. Free from Google.
Tez	Tez is a mobile payments service by Google, targeted at users in India. It operates atop the Unified Payments Interface, developed by the National Payments Corporation of India. It can be used where UPI payments are accepted.
Tilt Brush	Tilt Brush is a room scale 3D painting virtual reality application developed and published by Google. The software was released for Microsoft Windows on April 5, 2016.
Translate	Google Translate is a free multilingual machine translation service developed by Google, to translate the text. It offers a website interface, mobile apps for Android and iOS, and an API that helps developers build browser extensions and software applications.
Trips	Google Trips simply gathers your travel information from Gmail and Inbox, then organizes it automatically. Plus, the entire app is available offline, so you can see your info wherever you are.

Google's Products and Services

Voice	Google Voice is a telephony service that provides call forwarding and voicemail services, voice and text messaging, as well as the U.S. and international call termination for Google Account customers in the U.S. and Canada.
Waze	Waze is GPS navigation software that works on smartphones and tablets with GPS support and provides turn-by-turn navigation information and user-submitted travel times and route details while downloading location-dependent information over a mobile telephone network.
Wear OS by Google	Wear OS, previously known as Android Wear, is a version of Google's Android operating system designed for smartwatches and other wearables.
YouTube	YouTube is an American video-sharing website headquartered in San Bruno, California. The service was created by three former PayPal employees—Chad Hurley, Steve Chen, and Jawed Karim—in February 2005. Google bought the site in November 2006 for US$1.65 billion; YouTube now operates as one of Google's subsidiaries.
YouTube Gaming	YouTube Gaming keeps you connected to the games, players, and culture that matter to you. Featuring videos and live streams with chat — including lets plays, reviews, speedruns, trailers, and more from your favourite gamers and publishers — you can explore the games you care about more deeply than ever before.
YouTube Kids	YouTube Kids is an app on the Google Play Store and the iOS App Store. The app's purpose is to provide a family-friendly version of YouTube for younger children, with parental control features and video filters.
YouTube TV	YouTube TV is a live TV streaming service with major broadcast and popular cable networks. YouTube Red gives you a premium music experience and uninterrupted YouTube—ad-free, offline, and in the background.

Products and Services for Business	Description
AdMob	AdMob is Google's advertising platform for promoting and monetizing mobile applications. Similar to MoPub, it allows application developers to promote their applications through in-app ads, monetize their applications by enabling in-app advertising, and provides intelligent insights into Google Analytics.
AdSense	Google AdSense is a program run by Google that allows publishers in the Google Network of content sites to serve automatic text, image, video, or interactive media advertisements, that are targeted to site content and audience.
AdWords	Google AdWords is an online advertising service developed by Google, where advertisers pay to display brief advertising copy, product listings, and video content within the Google ad network to web users.
AdWords Express	Google AdWords Express is an advertising product that automatically manages your online ads, without the need for daily management or tasks. Your potential customers already search Google for the products and services that you offer.
Analytics	Google Analytics is a freemium web analytics service offered by Google that tracks and reports website traffic. Google launched the service in November 2005 after acquiring Urchin.
Blogger	Blogger is a blog-publishing service that allows multi-user blogs with time-stamped entries. It was developed by Pyra Labs, which was bought by Google in 2003. Generally, the blogs are hosted by Google at a subdomain ofblogspot.com.
Digital Unlocked	Digital Unlocked. Digital Unlocked is an initiative by Google in collaboration with the Indian School of Business and Ministry of Electronics and Information Technology to promote digital awareness and to help small-scale businesses and startups to go digital in India.
DoubleClick by Google	DoubleClick Ad Exchange is a real-time marketplace partnered with the Google Display Network for buying and selling advertising. It represents another market for advertisers to bid on display advertising across the Internet.
FeedBurner	FeedBurner is Google's RSS feed management service that many bloggers relied upon several years ago. FeedBurner hasn't seen any features or updates for as long as we can remember. FeedBurner API was taken down. They also retired the AdSense for Feeds feature.
Firebase	Firebase is a mobile and web application development platform developed by Firebase, Inc. in 2011, then acquired by Google in 2014. Firebase helps you develop high-quality apps and grow your business. Each product works independently, and they work even better together.
Flutter	Flutter is Google's mobile UI framework for crafting high-quality native interfaces on iOS and Android in record time. Flutter works with existing code, is used by developers and organizations around the world, and is free and open source.
G Suite	G Suite is a brand of cloud computing, productivity and collaboration tools, software and products developed by Google, first launched on August 28, 2006, as "Google Apps for Your Domain". G Suite is a set of intelligent apps including Gmail, Docs, Drive and Calendar to connect the people in your company, no matter where in the world they are.
Google Cloud Platform	Google Cloud Platform, offered by Google, is a suite of cloud computing services that run on the same infrastructure that Google uses internally for its end-user products, such as Google Search and YouTube.
Google Domains	Google Domains is a domain registration service offered by Google, which publicly launched in the United States on January 13, 2015. It is currently in the Beta stage.
Google Enterprise Search	Google Enterprise Search. Google Enterprise Search helps employees and customers find what they need, fast. It's easy to use and manage so you can put your data back to work.
Google Manufacturer Center	Manufacturer Center allows manufacturers to provide better and more accurate information about their products to improve the shopping experience on Google.com, Google Shopping, and other Google services.
Google Merchant Center	Google Merchant Center is a tool which helps you to upload your product listings for use with Google Shopping, Google Product Ads, and Google Commerce Search.
Google My Business	Google My Business is a free and easy-to-use tool for businesses and organizations to manage their online presence across Google, including Search and Maps. By verifying and editing your business information, you can both help customers find you and tell them the story of your business.
Google Surveys	Google Surveys is a business product by Google that facilitates customized market research. The product was designed by Google as an alternative to internet paywalls for websites that publish content.
Google Tag Manager	Google Tag Manager is a tag management system created by Google to manage JavaScript and HTML tags used for tracking and analytics on websites.
Google Trends	Google Trends is a public web facility of Google Inc., based on Google Search, that shows how often a particular search term is entered relative to the total search volume across various regions of the world, and in various languages.
Google Web Designer	Google Web Designer is a program for Windows, Mac and Linux from Google for creating interactive HTML5 ads and other HTML5 content. It offers a GUI with common design tools, such as a Text tool that integrates with Google Web Fonts, a Shapes tool, a Pen tool, and 3D tools.

Google's Products and Services

Local Inventory Ads	Local inventory ads showcase your products and store information to nearby shoppers searching with Google. When shoppers click your ad, they arrive on a Google-hosted page for your store, called the local storefront.
reCAPTCHA	reCAPTCHA is a free service that protects your site from spam and abuse. It uses advanced risk analysis techniques to tell humans and bots apart. With the new API, a significant number of your valid human users will pass the reCAPTCHA challenge without having to solve a CAPTCHA.
Search Console	Google Search Console is a no-charge web service by Google for webmasters. It allows webmasters to check indexing status and optimize visibility of their websites. As of May 20, 2015, Google rebranded Google Webmaster Tools as Google Search Console.